B MODULE DESIGN

For further information please refer to the UoH Quality and Standards webpages – ‘Curriculum Design’ under the ‘Programme Development and Management’ heading.

11 Module Indicative Content

Please outline the key themes and topics to be included in this module. Please consider the diversity of perspectives that are being presented (e.g. non-European, Black Asian and Minority Ethnic, LGBTQ).

The objective of this module is for students to continue to consolidate and develop their skills, acquired through Specialist Study 1, as they work towards achieving a more advanced knowledge and understanding of professional disciplines, whilst continuing to build the technical proficiency and creative fluidity of their creative practice. Students will work towards the submission of a performance or portfolio or combination of both, depending on their chosen discipline. In preparation for a performance or portfolio submission, or combination of both, students will, on a co-investigative basis with tutors in 1:1 sessions and in taught group sessions, work towards further enhancing and refining their practical, creative and presentational skills, through identifying and resolving remaining technical weaknesses, exploring and analysing a range of original material and/or repertoire, and developing a coherent mode of presentation in line with the demands of their chosen idiom. Working with their 1:1 specialist tutor, students are encouraged and assisted to express their creative practice however they see fit within the performance or portfolio format (pending agreement from the Module Leader) to afford the greatest diversity of perspectives presented.

12 Rationale

Please explain the rationale for including the module in the programme, including how it fits with other modules and the overall programme.

Specialist Study 2 is the second-of-three core practice-focused modules that underpin the MA Popular Music. The module builds on Specialist Study 1 by facilitating students to continue exploring their creative practice in various guises in conjunction with specialist tutors while working toward a longer summative assessment in which students demonstrate their developing technical and creative expertise as part of a performance or portfolio. The module further enculturates students within a productive creative community through group sessions that include presentation of work-in-progress and dissemination of structured peer feedback. This module complements Creative Practice in Context 2 by providing students with an environment in which they can practically apply their evaluative and critical skills to the realisation of original and creative output, with an appreciation of the demands and expectations of their individual audiences. Students will apply and improve their skills in critical thinking through participation in active peer-to-peer group feedback sessions, as well as through reflecting on their own creative practical work as part of preparing for the summative assessment at the end of the trimester.

13 Learning and Teaching Methods

Please outline the teaching and learning methods and the rationale for their selection, including how this fits with the overall programme approach.

Students will be assigned a specialist tutor in support of developing their skills, who will encourage technical development, and analytical and critical thought that is pertinent to the student’s chosen direction. The tutor will also assist in further building the student’s awareness and understanding of applied practice (e.g. to write songs for a brief, or to devise a performance for a particular venue or occasion). In work in progress workshops, students continue to hone their skills in critiquing their own work and that of their peers. Online students will utilise online platforms to critique work and engage in peer feedback, guided by tutors and resources that underpin the development of these skills. Further information regarding the online learning approach can be found in the conservatoire’s ‘Online Learning Framework’. The mix of 1:1 specialist tuition and group taught feedback sessions allows students to receive guidance and direction on their work from a variety of perspectives and backgrounds, leading to each student acquiring a more holistic understanding of their creative work.

17 Ethical Issues

Universities research and develop modules, which deal with issues that may be sensitive or involve ethical considerations. As with research, the duty of care extends to all involved in learning and teaching. Please highlight any relevant issues that relate to content, teaching methods and assessment and state how they are to be addressed (include evidence of support from relevant ethics committees and relevant risk assessments as appropriate).

	This module enables students to explore and engage with various methods of realising their creative practice including the potential for direct collaboration with peers in performances, songwriting, and/or production work. The methods and direction of this creative practice are entirely student-led, allowing students to decide for themselves what areas of their creativity they would like to explore and the assessment format that best suits their needs (performance or portfolio). Where group taught sessions include students presenting and receiving feedback on their work-in-progress, specific methods are used to ensure students remain respectful and professional around one another. Utilising the Critical Response Process, students and staff offer and receive feedback as peers in a supportive environment that foregrounds neutral statements/questions, as well as requiring presenters' permission to offer direct opinions. Leeds Conservatoire is committed to maintaining the quality and ethical standards in our programmes when members of our academic community undertake primary research. The practice of following the conservatoire's research approvals process ensures information is gathered via ethical and respectful interactions with participants, following best research practices. All students are required to adhere to the conservatoire's Research Approvals Process, which ensures adherence to ethical principles in research activities, and aligns with the University of Hull's guidelines.
18	What are the risks associated with this module and any plans for mitigation against these?
	The module is compulsory, so there are no required student numbers necessary for the module to be viable. All students will participate.
19	Equality and Diversity
	Higher education is covered by the Equality Act 2010, which protects individuals from discrimination on the basis of the following protected characteristics: age; disability; gender reassignment; pregnancy and maternity; race; religion or belief; sex; sexual orientation. Detail the adjustments you have considered to ensure this module anticipates the needs of students with any of these characteristics. Specialist Study 2 encourages and supports a diverse range of creative musical practices to reflect the range of approaches to popular music, broadly defined. Each student is supported to express themselves in whatever means best suits the needs of the student and of the work. Group taught sessions draw upon discussions and outcomes from Specialist Study 1 to continue to best accommodate a range of student needs. The teaching team are cognizant of the sensitivities inherent in critiquing and offering guidance on creative practice in both solo and group sessions, and work to ensure the wellbeing of students throughout this process. All assessments include a fixed submission deadline to accommodate students with additional needs. This inclusive approach will be incorporated into the assignment deadline for every student.

C MODULE ASSESSMENT

20 Rationale for Assessment Methods Chosen Including Inclusivity

Please outline the rationale for the formative and summative assessment methods chosen. What steps have been taken to ensure assessment is inclusive e.g. alignment of formative and summative assessment and scaffolding of assessment tasks), and how this fits with the overall programme approach.

To be inclusive, the assessment for this module has been designed to enable each student to choose how they would like to evidence their work. In addition to being able to choose between a performance, or portfolio in-line with their specialist study choices, each performing student also has the choice to submit either a performance live in an assessment space, or an audio or video portfolio demonstrating their performance skills.

The module is taught in such a way as to provide formative feedback for students through the trimester in-line with their specialist study discipline and preferred submission choice.

While students may collaborate with others to realise their performances, the assessment process itself is conducted on an individual basis, and each student can choose if they would like to be assessed alone, or with an ensemble supporting them. If they choose to work with an ensemble, there is no requirement for that ensemble to comprise other students on the module. Students can perform with whomever they wish and at their own pace, so are not reliant upon others in a group for assessment work to be completed by the published deadline.

21 Assessment Model for this Module (Formative and Summative)

	Programme Competencies Addressed	Summative Assessment Type and Title (where relevant)	%	Formative Assessment that aligns to the Summative
SA1	PC2, PC4, PC6 performers	A live performance or performance portfolio of existing work	100	Students do not receive written or grade-based formative assessment. Rather, they receive regular verbal feedback in their weekly taught sessions. Practical and academic work is reviewed at tutorials.
SA1	PC2, PC4, PC6	A live performance or performance portfolio of original compositions or production work newly created.	100	Students do not receive written or grade-based formative assessment. Rather, they receive regular verbal feedback in their weekly taught sessions. Practical and academic work is reviewed at tutorials.
SA1	PC2, PC4, PC6	A portfolio of original compositions/production work evidenced by appropriate documentation, i.e. scores, recordings, etc.	100	Students do not receive written or grade-based formative assessment. Rather, they receive regular verbal feedback in their weekly taught sessions. Practical and academic work is reviewed at tutorials.

In advance of the abovementioned submissions, all students will submit an Assessment Proposal Form no later than two weeks prior to the end of trimester 1 or by the advertised date on the VLE. The form, which will not be formally assessed, will summarise (in no more than 500 words) their specific involvement in the proposed submission/performance, stating whether they would like to be assessed as a performer, songwriter, writer performer, or writer producer. These details will be provided on the same form as that for Creative Practice in Context 2. As noted in box 20, this optionality is built into the assessment to aid inclusivity.

22 Module Resubmission or Reassessment

Resubmission of the original assessment is the standard approach. Please ensure that the resubmission is feasible. If the original assessment is an examination or requires wider input, e.g. group assessment, lab work, peer participation, then reassessment may be required.

Where reassessment is required instead of resubmission, please provide a rationale below, and complete the box below.

Re-assessment method*.

	Programme Competencies addressed	%	Assessment Type and Title (where relevant)
SA1	PC2, PC4, PC6	100	A live performance or performance portfolio of existing work
SA1	PC2, PC4, PC6	100	A live performance or performance portfolio of original compositions or production work newly created
SA1	PC2, PC4, PC6	100	A portfolio of original compositions/production work evidenced by appropriate documentation, i.e. scores, recordings, etc.

*Submissions reflect the work done by students during the module; as such they are typically based upon lived experiences and often collaborative projects that require immersion in the work for a specific number of hours. In a practical sense, it is typically impossible for such engagement to be repeated; re-sits tend to focus on a re-evaluation or modification of the work. Alternatively, within the parameters of the assessment criteria, students might choose to submit entirely new work.
